

Wayside Exhibits Digital File Naming Guide

Harpers Ferry Center's Media Services group uses a file structure, naming, and numbering system to bring efficiency and consistency to wayside exhibit digital files. This system enables different users to quickly recognize file types and locate documents for revision and file transfer. The system contains guidelines for folder structure, file naming, and file numbering, which facilitates a seamless transition between database, repository, archive, and operating systems. The following will instruct you on how to incorporate this system into your workflow.

Folder Structure

When starting a new project, create a master folder with the following title: park alpha code¹, the last two digits of the year, and the designation WE for wayside exhibits. For example, a wayside exhibit folder created for Everglades National Park in the year 2005 would be titled EVER05WE. Within the master folder create three additional folders: Exhibits, Graphics, and Documents. Then create subfolders within each of these three main folders as shown below.

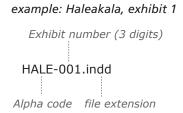

This is the basic folder structure. The remainder of this document explains the type of documents stored in each folder and how they will be named.

Exhibits Folder

The Exhibits folder contains four items: InDesign exhibit layout files, exhibit pdfs, library files, and book files. Exhibit layouts are created as separate InDesign files (except in cases of exact duplicates or duplicate orientation panels that have different "You are Here" locations). This ensures that each exhibit has a unique exhibit number and a separate maintenance record. InDesign exhibit layout files are placed directly in the Exhibits folder, as are the book files and library files. Pdfs are placed in their own folder within the Exhibits folder.

Exhibit numbers contain three digits and follow consecutive order. When assigning numbers to a new series of wayside exhibits, start with the next number in the park's existing series of wayside exhibits.²

File names for each exhibit layout include: park alpha code, exhibit number, and the file extension³.

Exact duplicate or duplicate orientation exhibits with different "You Are Here" locations can have multiple exhibit numbers assigned to one file name. In most cases graphics are identical. This is the only instance where a multiple page document is allowed and recommended.

example: Haleakala exhibits 1–5, 27, 36–39 are duplicate orientation exhibits that have different "You Are Here" locations:

HALE-001-005_027_036-039.indd

The most efficient way to create multiple exhibit documents like this is with master pages and layers. The master page contains the unchanging information. The layers contain changable information such as a "You Are Here" locator.

Sample Exhibits Folder

PDF Folder contains PDF versions of the exhibit layouts. It can contain individual PDFs for each exhibit or one large PDF containing all of the exhibits combined. An example would be a single PDF of the entire concept plan. For individual PDFs the filename remains the same; only the file extension changes. For multiple-exhibit PDFs the filename becomes the job name plus a version number.

HALE-001.indd → HALE-001.pdf

HALE05WE-v1.pdf Initial Concept Plan HALE05WE-v2.pdf Revised Concept Plan HALE05WE-v3.pdf Final Concept Plan

Graphics Folder

The Graphics Folder contains all graphics associated with the job. This includes all graphic resources, FPOs (for placement only), working files (Photoshop layered files) and final linked graphics. FPOs and graphic resources are stored within separate folders. The final linked HI-RES graphics are placed directly into the Graphics folder.

Graphic naming of final placed HI-RES graphics includes: park alpha code, exhibit number, a two-digit graphic number, and application file extension. Graphic numbers are assigned consecutively, usually from the largest graphic to smallest or from left to right.

example: Haleakala, exhibit 1, three graphics

HALE-001-01.psd HALE-001-02.tif HALE-001-03.ai

If a graphic is used for more than one exhibit, the graphic number is taken from the first exhibit that uses that graphic in the series.

Sample Graphics Folder

Graphic Resources Folder contains all pontential graphics including stock collections, images gathered from the web, or park-provided images. Final unaltered scans should also be stored in this folder. For graphic acquisition purposes it is beneficial to keep the original filename generated by the author.

FPOs Folder contains low-resolution versions of the final intended graphics. They are named the same as the final graphics but with the designation of fpo.

example: Haleakala, exhibit 1, three fpo graphics

HALE-001-01fpo.psd HALE-001-02fpo.tif HALE-001-03fpo.ai

Documents Folder

The Documents folder contains three folders: Planning, Production, and Contracting. These three folders contain everything associated with planning, production, contracting, or subcontracting.

Planning Folder contains associated planning documents, including the Wayside Planner database, Graphics Database, exhibit text, correspondence, official memos, etc. The title of any document in this folder should include the job name. The Wayside Planner database and Graphics Database are specifically named.

The Wayside Planner Database includes the job name, a wayside planner database designation (PLAN), and the file extension.

HALE05WE-PLAN.fp7

The Graphics Database document includes the job name, a wayside graphics database designation (GR), and the file extension.(.fdb/.doc/.fp7)

HALE05WE-GR.fdb

Production Folder contains production notes and custom exhibit base drawings.

Production notes include the job name, a wayside production notes designation (PROD), and the file extension.

HALE05WE-PROD.indd

If there are multiple production notes for the same job, for example a portion of the job is digital and another portion is porcelain, add the designation for the material type.

HALE05WE-PROD-D.indd (Digital) *or*HALE05WE-PROD-P.indd (Porcelain)
HALE05WE-PROD-S.indd (Screenprinting)

Exhibit base drawings include the job name, the exhibit number, a wayside exhibit base drawing designation (DRAW), and the file extension. (.mcd/.eps/.ai/. dwg/.dxf)

HALE05WE-01DRAW.dxf

Contracting Folder contains all associated contracting and/or subcontracting documents. This includes the statements of work, schedules, memos, attachments, and deliverables. Any document stored in this folder should include the job name in its title. Additional subfolders may be created for each contract.

Chad Beale (chad_beale@nps.gov, ph 304 535-6451) or Mark Muse (mark_muse@nps.gov, ph 304 535-6428).

- ^{1.} Note: a park alpha code is a four-letter abbreviation that the National Park Service uses to identify a particular park. A complete list of park alpha codes is included at the end of this document.
- ^{2.} Please check with the Susan Haines at 304-535-6033, susan_haines@nps.gov, for the most up-to-date exhibit numbers before beginning a new project.
- ^{3.} File extensions are codes that computer operating systems such as Macintosh OS X and Windows XP use to identify a file. To maintain cross-platform compatibility and to differentiate between file types it is critical that file extensions be used at all times. Adobe Creative Suite applications automatically include file extensions in the "Save" dialog window.
